

FROM THE WRESTLING MAT TO THE MISSION FIELD

Coach Holloway's journey of following Jesus and making disciples

On the pages of his new book, From the Wrestling Mat to the Mission Field- My Journey of Making Disciples of all Nations, retired teacher, football and wrestling coach, Brad Holloway takes us on his personal journey of following Jesus as a teen into his adult life. He says, “The will of God is not a mystery”, and shares story after story of simply doing the next thing God gives him opportunity to do. From leading students to saving faith in Christ in the public school classroom, talking down a drunk would-be assailant on the dark streets of Mozambique, Africa, and as a church planter in Puerto Rico, Brad draws parallels between his relationships with his disciples and Jesus’ relationship with his disciples, and shares how he uses his occupation to pour his life into men and boys to do what Jesus said, “make disciples of all nations.”
